FREIGHT EXCHANGE NAMED A BEST FLEETS TO DRIVE FOR “FLEETS TO WATCH”

Chicago-based carrier one of five fleets recognized; and only Chicago-based fleet honored

Chicago, IL., February 7, 2013 – Freight Exchange of North America (F/X) announced today that they were named a Best Fleets to Drive For “Fleets to Watch” by Truckload Carriers Association and Carriers Edge. F/X was the only Chicago based carrier to earn this recognition.

“We are honored to have made the list this year,” said F/X President Todd Bennett. “We pride ourselves on responding to our Owner Operators and Driver Requests, anticipating their needs and delivering the F/X Experience they were promised when recruited. This award is truly a testament to our innovative thinking and everything we try to strive to be.”

The “Fleets to Watch” award was added to the Best Fleets to Drive For award program in 2011 to honor companies demonstrating innovation in their driver programs.

This year, CarriersEdge President, Mark Murrell, noted that they “had a 50% increase in nominations and participation for the fifth anniversary of the program.” He went on to say that, “Clearly, being named a Best Fleet to Drive For is a prestigious title that is motivating companies to constantly raise the bar on the offerings they provide their truck drivers.”

To qualify for the award, all companies were nominated by company drivers and owner operators. CarriersEdge conducted a survey concerning each fleet’s professional development opportunities for drivers, advancement opportunities, work-life balance, driver turnover, etc, and then interviewed senior leadership at each organization. A selection of each fleet’s drivers was also surveyed, with their feedback incorporated into the company’s final score.
